Subject: Inquiry from Leather CPR

I originally purchased your product CARPET CPR at the local Sams Club in Lewisville, TX about six months ago. It was sold as a two pack,

I have a small dog that sometimes urinates on the carpet, and believe me, I have tried every product, probably spent over a $1000 on different products testing them, and your CARPET CPR is the only product that actually removes the yellow urine stain from the carpet fibers. I went back to Sams and bought a dozen more bottles and now I am out! Sams does not currently carry your product and I have went to all the places listed on your website to purchase and they do not carry it as well in this market. Ordering online is going to create additional costs for shipping and it would be easier to buy local, so can you please help me by letting me know if anyone in this area sells the product. Lewisville, TX is a suburb of Dallas, so anywhere in the Metroplex would be easy to get to. Would you be willing to sell the product online at a discount if I purchase another 12 bottles? I would appreciate any assistance you could offer.
