i was writing about the new product Carpet CPR. We recently put in some new carpet, in my daughters room she spilled a bottle of liquid make up. I quickly followed the carpet manufacture's instruction to try clean it up, the stain remained but became a little bigger. I went to the store to try to find a product to remove the stain. I tried at least three different product, nothing worked. One day at Sams Club your company had a road show with Carpet CPR it promised the same as the others in regard to stain removal, I didn't believe it. They promised a money back gaurantee if the product did not work, I clearly had nothing to lose. With little hope i tried your product,I watched in disbelief as the stain lightened, per instuctions i applied again, the stain had been removed. I was so excited to know the carpet wasn't ruined this is clearly the best spot remover I have ever used. I did not think I could love your product more, but one evening we had some family and friends over for some dinner. Before dinner we were sitting on our couch made of a suede like material, a friend of mine had a glass of red wine in her hand when our dog jumped up and spilled her glass all over my couch. That was it i knew the couch was ruined for sure there is nothing to get that out with. I went to look for something under the sink and saw the Carpet CPR I thought i would give it a try I sprayed it on waited then blotted and the wine was gone. My guest were amazed as were I again!! Thank you so much for a wonderful product.

Sincerely
