Leather CPR Squeeze Refill 32 oz. |

I have to say I'm truly amazed with this product. I was extremely worried about applying a leather conditioner to my rather expensive leather couch and armchair, I was afraid it would either damage/discolor the leather, or leave a sticky or greasy residue. But the other reviews here convinced me to give this product a try. I just spread it on with my hand, didn't bother with the included sponge applicator. It soaked in quickly, brought the leather back to a nice color and feel, and left no detectable residue on the surface. I'm already back to buy more, I used this whole 8 oz jar to condition my armchair.

I bought this product online and used on my leather jacket. The cleaner/conditioner did make the jacket soft and looks better. Decent price, very preferable quality.

Highly recommend it.

I have leather furniture that has been damaged by the claws of my cats. After using this product, things looked like new. I was very impressed, and wouldn't hesitate to use it again. Another thing I liked is that it was a cleaner and conditioner in one; thereby taking a previous two-step process, and turning it into a one-step process.

For the last few years, I have used this product on a leather sofa that has been abused by two dogs and the sun. Before I last used it, I had given up hope of ever restoring the sofa's original color and shine (largely because I had procrastinated so long before cleaning it). I was out of Leather CPR and tried something else that I picked up at the grocery store. I cleaned and conditioned, but the sofa still showed scratches and was light colored where the sun and a dog had abused it. I bought the Leather CPR, applied it, and watched my sofa come back to life. No, it's not in perfect original condition, but it's almost there. I love this product!

This product works great. Previously I have used other leather cleaners that only did a minimal job. Leather CPR cleans what the others left behind. Highly recommended!!
