

Report It

by Turn_n_B...

Member since:

21 Ogos 2007

Total points:

2699 (Level 4)

- Add to My Contacts
- Block User

Best Answer - Chosen by Asker

What I use in my store to keep the saddles I sell nice and supple is a product called Leather CPR. it cleans, conditons and softens the leather. We have florescent lighting in the store and my saddle stans are three tiered so the saddles get pretty close tot he lights. Before I started using this on the saddles when I took over the equine section, all the leather tack was dried out, disclored and in horrible condition. We had to clearance a lot out to get it gone and get all new stuff. i started using the Leather CPR and have noticed not only is there no drying out of the leather but some of the older stuff that had dried out has regained almost 95% of it's suppleness. ~~_____~~

~~_____~~ This method has worked well for me for over 10 years. I have a super nice barrel saddle that cost more than my current horse and it still looks like it's maybe 2 years old instead of 10 even the silver on it!

- 1 month ago

Source(s):

equine manager at feed and tack store/personal experiences:)

- Report It

Asker's Rating:

1/6/2008