I just have to tell you again how much I love your product. I called your company about one year ago when the packaging changed, and I wanted to make sure it was the same formula, and I was glad to hear you hadn't changed it.

I am very chemically sensitive, and this had been the only leather cleaner and conditioner I was able to tolerate. After first discovering it a few years ago, I used it on everything leather, and my old belts and purses took on a new life. I noticed the new jars I just purchased this week indicate this.

You also need to indicate on the jars about the fact that it has no petroleum ingredients. That is something I have to avoid, as does anyone else who suffers from Multiple Chemical Sensitivities (MCS). By the way, we recently bought a used car with leather seats, and we used CPR for that also, and they feel just like new.

I love this product, and I have recommended it to many others who are chemically sensitive.
